Ranger Alfalfa Buffalo Alfalfa
Arizona Common Alfalfa New Mexico Common
Certified and Fancy Ladino Clover

ALL QUOTATIONS SUBJECT TO MARKET FLUCTUATIONS AND UNSOLD.

THE ADVANCE SEED COMPANY WARRANTS TO THE EXTENT OF THE PURCHASE PRICE THAT SEEDS OR BULBS SOLD ARE AS DESCRIBED ON THE CONTAINER WITHIN RECOGNIZED TOLERANCES. SELLER GIVES NO OTHER OR FURTHER WARRANTY, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED.

Certified Buffalo Alfalfa is now in full harvest in California. Pressure of Kansas demand still has this market "in the air" but in due time it should quiet down.

Certified Ranger Alfalfa is yielding exceedingly well. We hear that there may be a 20 million pound crop of this variety. Sellers' and buyers' ideas are still apart.

Ladino Clover is now selling well for both spot and later positions. The new crop will not be as large as thought. Demand is heavy for non-certified, rather poor for certified.

Arizona Alfalfa has advanced. Demand is heavier than expected. Yields and acreages are way down for 1951 crop. This market is moving up. Same for California Alfalfa.
